

DONATION TERMINAL

for making donations electronically

The waning use of cash transactions in today's world is commonplace. The answer to this trend are the donation terminals that have been operating in many churches throughout Europe for several years. These terminals complement the donations that have been made by the faithful using the traditional manner. Our company has over 10 years of experience in producing terminals such as those installed in religious buildings. Using our knowledge we have created a product that meets the expectations of both the donors and the users of these machines

FOR DONORS

Our donation terminal has been designed for the faithful who are increasingly using cashless transactions. This device allows making donations personally, it is easy to use, guarantees security, ensures discretion, and accepts payment cards and mobile phones.

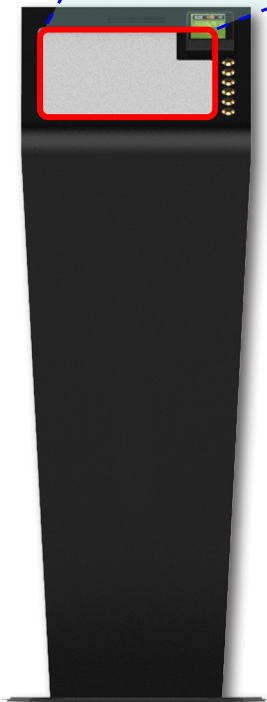

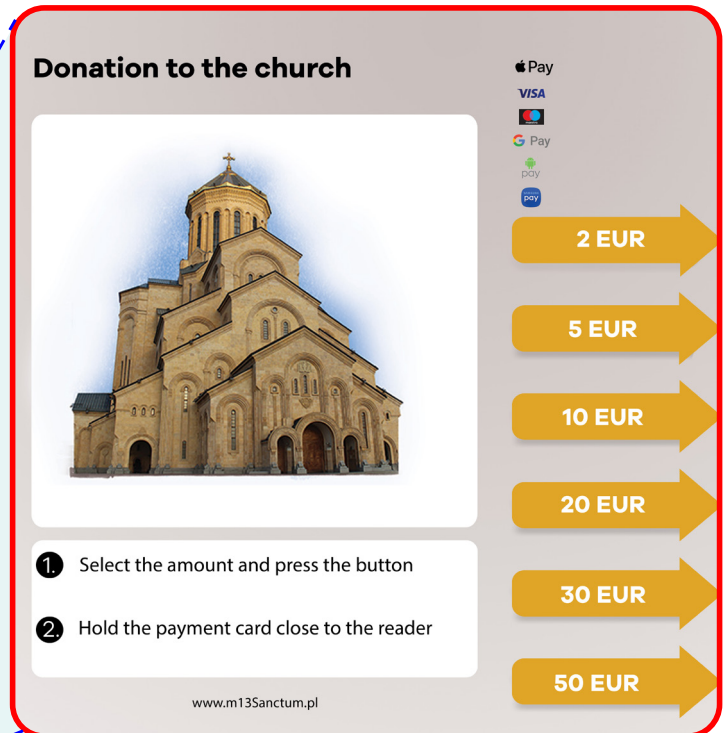

FOR USERS

Our product comes in a state-of-the-art yet simple and subtle design. It perfectly fits into the architecture of both traditional and modern religious buildings. This maintenance free system enables independent and quick changes of selection by the user.
